Enrico is a 16-year-old boy from Caltanissetta, Sicily. He feels his friends and family would describe him as considerate, sensitive and ambitious. He lives with his mother, father and younger sister. Enrico has a good relationship with his family, he listens to his parents and often seeks out their advice, especially with school situations. He admits he often fights with his sister, but knows it is normal and they always make up! He enjoys spending time with friends, eating out and having fun. In his spare time, Enrico works out 4 days a week to maintain his fitness for mountain bike racing. He also enjoys playing guitar, bass and piano and focuses on classical music. Enrico enjoys science and is considering aerospace engineering or medicine as a future career goal.

Enrico's teachers describe him as self-motivated, dedicated and attentive. He displays a positive attitude and is always ready to take on new responsibilities. He works well with others, is respectful, reliable and supportive to his classmates. His teachers recommend Enrico for an exchange program and feel it would be a positive experience for him.

Enrico is excited for the opportunity to go to a new country to learn. He is preparing himself by taking another English course to better his speaking skills. He hopes to create a strong bond with his host family and looks forward to being part of a new family. Enrico is motivated to learn and experience a new culture. He understands there will be an adjustment period but hopes to make new friends quickly and is confident he will be successful!
