Association for Teen-Age Diplomats

The Association for Teen-Age Diplomats (ATAD) has been coordinating high school level international exchange programs in the Monroe County area since 1952. We are proud of our long and successful relationship with Rochester's Sister Cities and several Direct Exchange Programs which have been established to give students broader opportunities to experience the world.

Host Families of exchange students provide three meals per day, a separate bed (but not necessarily a separate bedroom) and a desk (or other place) to store their school supplies and at which they could study. Host Families come from many walks of life. Opening the program to a broad array of people gives International Exchange Students an opportunity to see the diversity in the United States. Families with two working parents, single parent families, and families with no teen-agers can all be wonderful Host Families.

Hosting is a very rewarding experience for your entire family. It widens your horizons and provides worldwide friendships which often last a lifetime. Please complete this form and mail it to the following address if you are interested in obtaining more information about becoming a Host Family for a high school International Exchange Student. For questions or additional information contact us through the ATAD website at ATAD.org
